Dear companion in mission,

For Maryknoll Lay Missioners, 2022 marks the year of a Mission Assembly* that inspired reflection, and re-commitment to service among marginalized individuals and communities throughout the world. The way forward was illuminated by the call to active nonviolence in all ministries.

Countries around the world began to emerge from the paralysis of the COVID pandemic, but entrenched economic, political and social challenges continued to impact poor and marginalized communities the most.

Perhaps it was the resilience of the people Maryknoll missionaries share life with, perhaps it was the gifts of faith and dedication, or perhaps it was the power of the Holy Spirit that moved Maryknoll Lay Missioners to resolutions that promote a future full of hope. Most likely it was a combination of all these.

Together with the support of benefactors and loyal donors committed to social transformation and inspired to be a part of faith in action, Maryknoll lay missionaries continue to live into the difficult questions of our times. The personal encounters reflected in the programs and ministries throughout 2022 energize the lives of Maryknoll's missionary disciples.

With grateful hearts for the generous support from family, friends and donors, Maryknoll lay missionaries respond in their respective mission communities with joy, dedicated to social justice and committed in love to be witnesses to the Gospel of Jesus.

The staff and board of directors of MKLM likewise are honored to respond to the call of God's mission by sharing time, talent and treasure.

We invite all people of good will to join Maryknoll Lay Missioners to walk with us among the peoples of Cambodia, Kenya, South Sudan, Tanzania, Haiti, Brazil, Bolivia, El Salvador and the US-Mexico Border.

In mission,

Elvira Ramirez
Interim Executive Director

Sarah Welch
Chair, Board of Directors

 The mission assembly is akin to a strategic visioning process but mirrors the assemblies of religious orders taking Maryknoll Lay Missioners deeper into reflecting upon the very why of our existence and what that means for us at this moment in our history. It was the first such process in over 12 years for Maryknoll Lay Missioners.*

Embracing a RENEWED VISION & FUTURE

In 2022, Maryknoll Lay Missioners completed a two-year assembly process that was designed “to establish a vision for how we can be effective in mission in the 21st century, given changes in our own composition as an organization, as well as changes in the church, U.S. society and the world.”

This visioning process engaged and energized Maryknoll lay missioners, staff, board of directors and other stakeholders through discussions focused on reigniting passion and urgency for mission.

In February 2022, the process culminated in a two-week “Expanded Mission Assembly,” during which delegates from every country where Maryknoll Lay Missioners serve gathered virtually to deliberate on the key questions that had emerged from the two-year assembly process.

This assembly was led by outgoing director of mission Marj Humphrey and was the first in 13 years. Some of the concrete questions the assembly process tackled included:

- What is our vision of mission, and what values guide us?
- Can we agree on a specific focus for ministry, aligned with our emerging vision and our values?
- Who are we as a community, and who can be part of this community?
- What structures and decision-making processes would best meet our needs and align with our renewed mission, vision, values and focus?

The major decisions made during the assembly included:

- Agreeing on nonviolence as a cross-cutting focus for Maryknoll Lay Missioners work;
- Revising mission, vision and values statements;
- Expanding membership eligibility;
- Adjusting several internal structures and decision-making procedures.

In El Salvador, at the end of 2022, our currently longest-serving missionary, Ann Greig, concluded her soy ministry in San Ramón and prepared to relocate it to a new site with fellow missionaries Melissa and Peter Altman.

VISION, MISSION AND VALUES

The following are the new vision, mission, and values statements for Maryknoll Lay Missioners:

VISION

Justice, compassion, and dignity for all creation

MISSION

Compelled by faith to engage with people across cultures and ethnicities, we live, love and work with communities on the margins to promote active nonviolence and healing.

VALUES

- Simple Living: We embrace the interconnectedness of all creation and commit to ecological justice. By living simply, we participate in equitable access to the fullness of life for all.
- Community: We embrace the challenge to grow from the goodness of communion with each other and God. We strive for understanding, empathy and learning in relationships.
- Joy: Amidst sin, suffering and death, we rejoice in the hope of the resurrection. We choose to live together creatively, celebrating the beauty and humor of everyday life.

- Inclusion: By crossing borders of geography, culture, race, religion and ideology, we work for peace, understanding and wholeness. We recognize that dismantling unjust structures is critical to affecting real change. We commit to celebrating diversity in all that we do.
- Humility: We enter into communities with listening hearts and openness. We honor the agency of the communities where we serve and the voice and wisdom of those who receive us.

MEMBERSHIP AND STRUCTURES

Although the assembly chose many new initiatives and changes, they also reaffirmed Maryknoll Lay Missioners' status as a membership organization and an association of the faithful. They wholeheartedly reaffirmed the identity of Maryknoll Lay Missioners as a Catholic organization, nourished by the sacraments, traditions and wisdom of the Catholic Church and grounded in the history and mission charism of Maryknoll.

Delegates approved taking initial steps toward widening eligibility criteria to extend to adults who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents, thereby moving us toward becoming a more international and intercultural community. They also approved, on an experimental basis, welcoming applications from people of other faith traditions who feel drawn to mission within the context of a Catholic community.

Since the conclusion of the Expanded Mission Assembly, Maryknoll Lay Missioners has been busy implementing this renewed vision and the organizational changes that were rooted in it. Elvira Ramirez, the new director of mission who succeeded Marj, said, "All of our missionaries, along with our staff and board, have embraced this vision for Maryknoll Lay Missioners and are now together engaged in fleshing and living it out."

NEW MINISTRY FOCUS

ACTIVE NONVIOLENCE

The 2022 Expanded Mission Assembly also defined ACTIVE NONVIOLENCE as Maryknoll Lay Missioners' new overarching and cross-cutting focus, encompassing three "legs": prevention, intervention and restoration/reconciliation.

As Marie Dennis — a new member of MKLM's Board of Directors, who facilitated the assembly and has been a prominent, long-time leader in promoting nonviolence — explained, "Nonviolence is a phenomenal witness to a world that is hungry for a new way to relate to each other. It's a spirituality, it's a way of life, it's a global ethic. Our choice of nonviolence puts us in harmony with a world shift and joins us to many other groups and individuals that are embracing nonviolence and working to build a more peaceful world."

In 2022, in both São Paulo and in Brazil's Amazon region, Joanne Blaney led training sessions for facilitators and multipliers in restorative justice, popular education and reconciliation.
